

How to manage Customers in HP Applications Center

Customers

There is a special type of account for your recurring customers. Through it, they will be able to access an interface similar to the one used by you, but with limited functionality: they will only be able to create projects, see their order history and manage content.

Overview

On the Customers main page, you will be able to create new customers and manage existing ones.

Dashboard

Access to your orders and enable Web Apps, for your day-to-day productivity and creative activities, including automatic PDF ready2print file generation.

Managing customers

Apart from information from the customer, you will be able to:

- See the customer's activity,
- Manage its settings (such as which applications can be used)
- Manage content for this specific customer
- Access customer account
- Access templates as an end user
- Email login information, with the special login URL

Customer login

A special link (that was explained in the previous step) will allow the customer to login. The account is restricted, as we said, to:

- Produce specific applications
- See only own order history
- See own templates
- Manage own content
